Volcom 2009 "Wild in the Parks" Contest Series

Volcom had been on the lookout for the best park in California to host the 12th and final "Wild in the Parks" qualifier on the 2009 North American Tour and when they got word of a new park up in Santa Clarita they had to have a look. What they saw blew them away! "The park is 40,000 sq. feet of skate heaven." The park combines both tranny and street elements into a massive plaza that does a great job helping people lose track of time. Toi Chisom, Rick, Mike and the rest of the fine people at the City of Santa Clarita were more than helpful getting everything set up and helped Volcom prepare for what was sure to be a busy day!
